THAT PRIMARY ELECTION, ETC.

The action of the Democratic Committee in calling a primary in April next has caused more or less discussion among the members of the party in various sections of the county. Some contend that the action of the committee was ill-considered, unwise and out of place. Such talk as this, if it does anything, indicates that the party managers, had they not made a call, had become alarmed, and were therefore afraid to do anything. Such was in fact not the case, and Chairman Stevens was only following in the steps of his predecessors in the same course. Suppose no action had been taken in the primaries, and after the committee had come together and looked over the ground, they had then adjourned without meeting. Then what would have been the cry? Most assuredly our antagonists would have at once said that the Democracy was all broken up; that she was afraid to speak out.

Reviewing the situation in the light of all the circumstances, we frankly claim that the committee did the proper and wise thing. The Democratic party is not a trumped-up political organization with a brief history. It has been in existence for fifty years, and claims the right to follow in the line of its predecessors. It will not suffer dictation from indeterminate sources. It is governed by long established rules, and it must obey when the proper time arrives.

There was no reason, therefore, that the primary election should have been postponed. The Democracy doesn't propose to step down and out, and surrender the field to a third party, or to any party for that matter. She is emphatically here to stay, and those who don't like her manner of doing business on the campaign order, can be "moving" and "moving" as they please. There is no time limit as to the time when she will arrive, according to all precedents, the manner of choosing a candidate for the Legislature must be announced. There are two or more candidates in the field submitting their claims, and it has been seen that for the committee to have ignored these things and awaited the movements of some other organization, would have been a complete failure. In the name of high heaven, do you take us for?

If the Farmers' Alliance, the Wheelers, Grangers, Republicans, or any other party want to put up a candidate for the Legislature in this county, certainly all they have to do is to "let him go, (al- ing)." All the Democracy asks is a "free ballot and a free count." We can't see why we should be asked to support the nominee of the party, we ask of you, why not? What have you in the secret recesses of the Farmers' Alliance that offers more than your own party? There is platform of principles. This is guaranteed to all men of whatever race or color equal and exact justice before the law. Moreover it is pledged to give the administration from corruption, to restore economy and to reduce taxation to its lowest limit. Again, a tariff for revenue only, or a sufficient revenue to pay all expenses of the Government economically administered. And further, honest money as a basis for a circulating medium worth one hundred cents to the dollar.

These are some of the salient principles of Democracy, and what better can you find elsewhere? This is the question. And if nothing better, why do you desert her? We haven't sought against the Farmers' Alliance, for we take it that the ends sought to be accomplished are identical with those of the Democracy. If such be true, why abandon the party that you have struggled with for the past thirty years to accomplish these things? The road, if we will but stand together, is undoubtedly about reached, and can be reached through the Democratic party quicker than through any other channel. We appeal to all Democrats, therefore, to stand by their colors.

The current number of Hon. R. R. Pierce's paper on "Reunification," appearing in this issue, contains a feature of our local history in which this community feels that it has been especially distinguished and blessed—the noble services of the Government. The influence of their lives is a most potent factor for good even at this day, and nowhere is the memory of grandmothers and great-grandmothers more cherished and their noble traits and more fondly dwelt upon than among us who have been so richly blessed with a good and grand maternalism.

Is another column will be found the announcement of Hon. T. J. Jolly as a candidate for re-election to the Legislature. Mr. Jolly served as a member of the last House, where he acquitted himself with great credit as a new member and showed decided ability in handling questions of public interest. He now asks his party for an endorsement of his former official conduct, and we presume it will be given a very favorable consideration.

GUSTON.

News source. Mr. Adolphus Jones, of Big Spring, was in our city this week.

Mr. Horace Shaw has rented a residence in our town and will move in this week.

Miss Nellie L. Lewis, of Brandenburg, spending a few weeks with her grandfather, Mr. H. J. Patton.

Mr. Alonzo Moore and wife, of Brandenburg, were visiting their daughter, near Bevelville, last week.

Mr. Jess Clarkson passed through our town last week on his way to a very small place which he had longed in the Wolf Creek neighborhood.

The health of the community is very good, although our physician still stays with us, but perhaps it is because he couldn't live anywhere else except at Guston.

Mr. James Osborne says if you want a "tip" on painting houses of the newest spring designs, just throw your cards over the fence to the painter who has recently built and painted.

Meers, Patterson and Bewley are receiving some very fine grades of tobacco at their warehouses. They are both excellent parties who claim to be Democrats, but say they will not support the nominee of the party, we ask of you, why not? What have you in the secret recesses of the Farmers' Alliance that offers more than your own party? There is platform of principles. This is guaranteed to all men of whatever race or color equal and exact justice before the law. Moreover it is pledged to give the administration from corruption, to restore economy and to reduce taxation to its lowest limit. Again, a tariff for revenue only, or a sufficient revenue to pay all expenses of the Government economically administered. And further, honest money as a basis for a circulating medium worth one hundred cents to the dollar.

On last Saturday Mr. Ben Clarkson, of Big Spring, unloaded at our town a car of cattle that were in a very bad condition. He had killed them through from Lewisport to Louisville, and by the time they arrived here nearly two-thirds of them were down, and being so tightly packed in were unable to get up.

Meers, C. H. Drury and Dr. J. H. Frank, of New Bevelville, were in town last week. The Doctor had just received a wholesale supply of pot flowers from Louisville and was taking them home to his immense green-house. He tells us that his daughter, Miss Lucy, will soon return from her extended trip to Texas, where she has been visiting friends and relatives all winter.

A New City Hall.

EDITOR BRECKENRIDGE NEWS: Will you kindly give space in your valuable paper to a suggestion that may be a great benefit to our city? The writer has for some time past observed the necessity for a large City Hall—one of such dimensions and capacity as will accommodate all classes of public gatherings, such as political, theatrical, scientific, musical, operatic, etc., and may be used for festivals, public and social balls, parties, etc., and which will be a credit to the city, in the judgment of the stockholders, may best conduce to the financial success of the enterprise.

In this article it is not proposed that it shall be a tax or burden on the city, but shall be made up and owned by private subscription in the shape of a stock concern. The writer proposes that the building shall be 50 by 150 feet, and located on the principal street or thoroughfare of the city, shall be strong and commodious, having a balcony in front, and costing $100,000.

It is proposed that it be owned by a number of stockholders not exceeding twenty, and that the maximum subscription by any one person shall be $1,000, and the minimum $250, thereby making a limited, yet a sufficient number of persons interested in its accomplishment. Details can be furnished after the organization is completed.

Mr. Editor, the subject is open, and your opinion, or that of any practical writer on the subject will be gladly heard. The matter should be freely discussed and all practical suggestions listened to, and out of "many minds" can be formulated something that will be an honor and a lasting benefit to our young, but growing city.

Very respectfully submitted, R. L. NEWCOM.

At the expiration of his term in the penitentiary he returned home, and for the past year has lived quietly with his mother, about six miles from here. He was arrested under the old indictments. The principal witness against him is John Bruce, who was last week sentenced to the penitentiary for ten years.

Rev. Hoed was taken suddenly ill a few days ago, and is not expected to live.

W. S. Cule, of Indiana, was here last week in the interest of the Hoop Company.

Miss Kate and Myrtle Bond, who have been visiting relatives here, returned to their home in Missouri last week. They are bright attractive girls and will be sadly missed from our social circle.

Dr. D. B. Clark, who has been pastor of Walnut Grove church for several years, has resigned, as he has moved to Louisville, and has many calls nearer home as he can fill; being reduced in strength and health, it was very trying on him to come so far. We are sorry to lose him and fear it will be difficult to find another whom we can love and find so faithful in the cause as his brother Dowden. May his wish "to be given strength to preach the Gospel until his dying day" be realized.

We regret to learn of the death of J. R. Hoed's wife, which occurred near Owensboro a few days ago. Since their marriage six years ago, they have made their home in our midst until a few months ago, when we saw to our sorrow her leaving. She expressed a desire to visit her parents, near Owensboro, but they were ready to grant the slightest wish of his beloved wife, took her and their two children to her parents, where they resided until her death. The tender sympathies of the entire community are tendered to the grief-stricken husband and family in their sad bereavement.

Just—McCracken—M. S. Jolly and Miss Sue McFar were quietly married at the residence of the bride's uncle, A. J. Keys, February 18th, 1891, Rev. Clinton Anagnost officiating. The bride was beautifully attired in a new monogrammed, handsomely trimmed. The groom wore the conventional suit of black. The happy couple were preceded by J. M. Fitch and wife of Clinton Mills. The bridal party left immediately for Union Star, where the newly married pair will make their future home. May peace, happiness and prosperity attend them, and may they never for one moment see cause to regret the vows so solemnly pledged, but their bark glides smoothly over the ocean of life, with never a gale to disturb the serenity of their way, is the heartfelt wish of a friend.

Mr. J. H. Moorman, assessor for this district, states that there was a mistake in the appraisal of the property of Mr. A. B. Fisher. The amount should have been $7,400, instead of $750.

Mr. John Gregory, Sr., of this city, celebrated his 82nd birthday last Monday. It was the occasion of a reunion of his family, and quite a pleasant time was had. Mr. Gregory was born Feb. 23d, 1819, and came to this city in 1839, where he has held a continuous residence up to this time. He is still enjoying good health, and has reared a large family. An elegant dinner was served, and there were present Mr. J. H. Stuel and wife, Mr. Chris. Wright, wife and children, Mr. Robert Batt, wife and children, Mr. John Keiser, Mr. L. G. Gregory and family, Mr. J. D. Gregory and family, Mr. Geo. Gregory and wife, Mr. Phillip Gregory and wife, Rev. W. C. Penrod and Mr. John D. Babbage. His immediate family, including his brothers and sisters and their families, number eighty odd, and it was expected that all of them would be present, but quite a number were kept away.

THE CAPITAL REMOVAL AND THE NEXT GOVERNOR.

LOUISVILLE AND JOHN YOUNG BROWN LARGELY IN THE LEAD.

What Some of Our Leading Citizens Have to Say on the Subject.

A representative of the News called on a number of our prominent men Monday, to ascertain their views on the subject of the location of the State Capital, and also upon their preferences for a Democratic candidate for Governor. The following are the opinions expressed in reply to the queries of the News:

Mr. A. B. Skillman: I do not consider it a matter of great importance, and have no strong predilection in any way, but think that it would not be advisable to remove the Capital to Louisville. In spite of the plausible arguments to the contrary, the fact remains that the State Legislature and administrative officers are subjected to a pressure of corrupting influences in large cities that is not so much felt in remote Capitals. This was the experience in Louisiana when the Capital was in New Orleans, and it has been recognized by about half of the States in the Union, and has led to their maintaining the Capital in small interior cities. I would rather favor the building of the new Capital in Lexington, in order to get it out of that hole where it now stands at Frankfort. I feel some hesitancy in expressing a preference for a nominee for Governor thus early in the canvass, but just now I feel disposed to favor John Young Brown.

Mr. J. G. Gregory: I would like to see the Capital removed to Louisville. It is the metropolis of the State, and has better accommodations for the Capital. I am for P. Wat. Harlin for Governor.

Mr. Julius C. Nott: Of course I am in favor of having the Capital at Louisville. I have always thought that Louisville should be the Capital of the State. I can not express any preference as between the candidates for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Mr. A. R. Fisher: I am in favor of removing the Capital to Louisville, and would so vote. It would be more central and easier of access. I think that the argument that corruptionists would be more active and potent at the metropolis has little foundation in fact. Those who have an interest in corrupting the legislators, find the remoteness of the Capital a hindrance, not a help, to their ends. Yes, I am for John Young Brown, from the first jump clear through to the Rocky Mountains.

Mr. George W. Short: I have thought for a long time that Capital ought to be at Louisville, because Louisville is more accessible and better able to accommodate the Legislature and other public assemblies. I am for John Young Brown for Governor.

Dr. R. L. Newman: My opinion would depend upon the conditions upon which the location at any of the places mentioned would be made. The buildings maintaining the Capital should be established upon a more elaborate and expensive scale at Louisville than at Frankfort; and if this should place an increased burden of taxation upon the people, I would not be in favor of removing the Capital to Louisville. But if Louisville will furnish the building site, and contribute enough to cover the increased expense of maintaining a more elaborate Capital, I would favor its location at Louisville. I am for John Young Brown for Governor.

Mr. D. Hamilton: I have always favored the idea of locating the Capital at Louisville. Louisville is more convenient and suitable in every way. I am for Hon. P. Wat. Harlin for Governor.

Mr. F. Fraize: I am for it, have always been for it. Let us have the Capital at Louisville by all means. Corruptionists can operate at Frankfort just as well as at Louisville, and be less exposed to the scrutiny of the people and the public press. I am for John Young Brown all over.

Mr. Alex. Boyd: I would like for the Capital to come to Louisville. I have always wished to see it removed there. I am for John Young Brown for Governor.

Mr. J. W. Vest: I am strongly in favor of removing the Capital to Louisville. I take no stock in the argument that the bad elements would exert more influence at the Capital at Louisville than at Frankfort. A Capital in the deserts of Africa would be no more exempt from the lobbyist and corruptionist than if it were in a great American city.

Mayor R. B. Pierce: Next to Cloverport, I think that the Capital should be located at Louisville by all means. I am for John Young Brown for Governor.

Mr. Amel Cope: I have not thought for a long time that the Capital should be at Louisville. It is not so much a location near the geographical center of the State, as a location having the greatest facilities for reaching it from all parts of the State. Louisville has the best of this advantage. I am for John Young Brown for Governor, because he is a good Democrat and a Western man.

"Old Reliable Clothiers,"
COR. THIRD and MARKET, LOUISVILLE, KY.

Mr. W. H. Bower: My first choice for the location of the State Capital would be Owensboro. My second, Louisville. I do not think that corruptionists would ply their trade to any greater advantage in Louisville than at Frankfort. John Young Brown is my first choice for Governor, and P. Wat. Harlin my second.

Mr. J. L. Miller: I have not thought of the Capital removal question much, but believe I favor Louisville. I have no choice as between the candidates for the Democratic nomination.

Mr. R. D. Witt: I have never thought of the matter enough to form a decided opinion, but will say that Louisville seems to have the advantage in the way of inducements for the Capital. I know very little of the men now spoken of in connection with the Democratic nomination for Governor, but know that John Young Brown is a thorough Democrat, and believe I favor him.

Mr. Thomas Tousey: I believe that the Capital ought to be removed to Louisville, but would rather see it remain at Frankfort than removed to any other place than Louisville. I am for John Young Brown all over.

Mr. F. N. Day: I would like to see the Capital removed to Louisville, and John Young Brown nominated and elected Governor.

Judge John Allen Murray: The Constitutional Convention, being sovereign, may direct the Capital to be located where it chooses, but the present Convention will never exercise that power. The matter will then devolve upon the State Legislature, and enough votes to remove the Capital from its present location and establish it in any given place can never be had. So, in my mind, there is no such question as that of Capital removal now so much as that of the removal of the Capital to a new location. The only real question is, when and how can we ever get into a position to be able to construct a new Capital building. I do not desire to see the Capital removed to any place but to be nominated for Governor.

Hon. R. B. Pierce: I am opposed to the project for removing the Capital. It ought to remain at Frankfort. I am for John Young Brown for Governor.

New goods at the Cash Store. Now is the time and this is the place to come if you want to get the best in bottom prices. Come and see the goods and learn the prices. I would publish a price list, but that paper fell over at Hamilton might take a fit when he saw how low goods can be sold, when sold exclusively for cash.

Produce. Jacking from the present that has been sending out the Cash would have brought his goods at some ten to fifteen cents. He shows a little credit here when he buys eggs at 2 cents a dozen and what he knows he will get for them, but even that looks mighty thin to an intelligent person who reads the papers. They know what you will get for them, and know that you are more than getting it with your high prices. Your paying cash for a few dozen occasionally makes the digit a little thicker, but even that won't serve to cover your tracks. It would take a mighty hard-hearted old snail to take your money when he saw how it hurt you to give it up.—Cash Store.
